Euro Accessories proudly supply Plasmacem Pattern Formliners, bringing innovative and eco-friendly formwork solutions to construction sites across the UK and Ireland. Plasmacem, founded in 2006 in Vicenza, Italy, has revolutionised the construction industry with its commitment to low environmental impact and cutting-edge materials.

At the heart of Plasmacem's ethos lies a dedication to sustainability without compromising quality. The formwork systems are designed for both construction sites and precast elements, offering a range of materials that allow for multiple reuses. With an emphasis on research and development, Plasmacem continuously explores new materials tailored to each application, ensuring a customised, high-quality product for every project.

Unmatched Versatility and Durability

Plasmacem's formwork systems are engineered to deliver exceptional performance, boasting between 3 and 100 reuses depending on the material type. Among the most popular options are ESSEFLEX and FLEX, each offering unparalleled durability and flexibility. ESSEFLEX, with its limitless liner sheet size capability, stands out as a top choice for projects demanding up to 100 reuses. Meanwhile, FLEX offers impressive durability with up to 50 reuses, providing versatility for a wide range of applications.

Aesthetic Excellence: The Art of Pattern Design

With over 70 unique pattern designs readily available from stock, Plasmacem elevates concrete works to an art form. From timeless classics to contemporary motifs, these patterns add a touch of elegance and sophistication to architectural structures. Whether enhancing the façade of a commercial building or adding character to a residential development, Plasmacem's pattern formliners offer endless design possibilities.

Tailored Solutions: From Stock to Bespoke

Plasmacem understands that every project is unique, which is why it offers both stock and bespoke pattern designs to meet the diverse needs of its clients. The extensive range of stock patterns provides immediate access to a variety of designs, while bespoke solutions cater to specific project requirements. With Plasmacem, clients have the flexibility to bring their vision to life, whether it's a custom pattern or a modification of an existing design.

Seamless Integration: Large Matrices for Architectural Masterpieces

Plasmacem's expertise extends beyond standard formwork systems to include the production of large matrices for concrete works of architectural significance. These matrices eliminate unsightly interruption joints, allowing for seamless integration of pattern designs across expansive surfaces. Whether it's a sprawling plaza or a towering façade, Plasmacem ensures a flawless finish that enhances the overall aesthetic appeal of the structure.

Commitment to Excellence: Quality Assured

Euro Accessories, as the sole distributor of Plasmacem Pattern Formliners in the UK and Ireland, is committed to delivering excellence in every aspect of its service. From product selection to installation support, our team is dedicated to ensuring a seamless experience for our clients. With Plasmacem, quality is not just a promise—it's a guarantee.
